“Very useful and informative seminars. I attend the event most years and find they provide a good overview of current trends, practices and innovations in both Adult’s and Children’s Social Work.”

Lorraine O’Rourke, Social Worker

This is the 12th COMPASS Jobs Fair in Birmingham. Visitors come to this event to look for a new job; to update their social work knowledge and to research training and career options.

This is also an excellent opportunity to meet up with colleagues and meet new contacts. There will be job vacancies at all skill levels and visitors have been successfully recruited for specific posts at our events and many exhibitors take application details for future positions.

There will be up to 20 seminars to assist you with your professional development and to update you with your career and professional practice. Organisations will share new initiatives and bring first-hand experience to the exhibition and seminar programme.

This free resource is available to you because of the dedication and support received from our exhibitors, speakers and sponsors.

At the COMPASS Jobs Fair you will be able to:

- 1 Look for a new job
- 1 Network with colleagues
- 1 Make new contacts
- 1 Access registration advice

“Having now retired from full-time frontline work, but continuing as a part time tutor with the OU’s SW degree, I’ve found the COMPASS events very useful in keeping informed about current developments – and they are free!”

Clive Wright, OU Tutor

“I am very pleased that Birmingham City Council have sponsored the COMPASS Jobs Fair in Birmingham. The COMPASS Jobs Fair gives organisations the opportunity to meet directly with people who may be interested in a career in social care. It also gives people the chance to hear first-hand from staff and management about the work, the challenges and the opportunity that face those people working in the sector.”

Peter Hay, Strategic Director,
Adults and Communities,
Birmingham City Council
