

Passionate about young people?

Help change children's lives in Kent

Are you passionate about improving the lives of vulnerable children and young people? Come and join a well-resourced authority that will invest in your development.

We're looking for creative, innovative Team Managers, Senior Practitioners and Social Workers who can lead and inspire teams, champion best practice and provide expert supervision. You'll be helping us complete an exciting improvement journey, working in a dynamic and supportive culture.

The sheer size and scale of our county means a diversity of experience and range of career development opportunities few other employers can match. Not to mention sensible caseloads, competitive salaries and attractive benefits. Add a location that offers golden beaches, idyllic countryside and thriving towns - all a stone's throw from London - and that's why Kent is such a great place to live and work.
